

People and the sea

The sea is very important to lots of people for lots of different reasons.

Many of us like to spend time by, in or on the sea for fun and for some people the sea is where they work.

You may be lucky enough to live near the sea, making it easier to go to the beach or take a walk along the coast, or you may only visit occasionally or still be waiting for your first chance to visit the sea.

Seaside daydream
Imagine you are at the seaside

- What are the sounds and smells?
- How does it make you feel?
- What makes a visit to the seaside special?
