

Friday 7th June 2019
#WorldOceanDay

Dive in. Discover. Celebrate.

Wherever you are let's celebrate the ocean.
Explore how it helps us all live. Learn how we are connected to it every day.

We will celebrate World Ocean Day on Friday 7th June in schools this year. After the success of Blue Planet 2 the UK has taken such a keen interest in the ocean and our relation to it. We want you to be part of starting an even bigger conversation in schools across the UK.

World Ocean Day for Schools is a day to celebrate the role the ocean plays in all our lives, to learn more about our blue planet and to kickstart a fun conversation between children, parents, teachers and communities about our relationship with the ocean. There will be three main ways to participate:
